

Officials Say School Not Above Criticism, But Judge Streit Unfair

Fuller Report To Be Made By University

By Dorman Cordell

"We do not contend that our record in this affair is above criticism," University officials said in a preliminary statement Wednesday answering recent charges by Judge Saul Streit.

However, the officials added, "we would offer the opinion that Judge Streit went to unnecessary lengths in blackening the reputation of a University that has commanded respect throughout the land for its scholastic standards, for the high accomplishments of its faculty, and for its steady and sound development over the last three decades."

The statement was released to answer blasts made against the University by Judge Streit in suspending the sentences of three UK basketball stars implicated in recent "fix" scandals.

A fuller statement will be made later, it was announced.

"Never Again"

The statement made following a joint meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees, the board of directors of the Athletics Association, and the executive committee of the Alumni Association, pledged:

"We are firmly resolved to make such reforms in our athletics program as will assure the people of Kentucky that never again shall a scandal besmirch the name of their University."

The statement said much of the judge's statement was based on statements of fact, removed from context and taken together with his statements of opinion. This "produced a distorted and untrue picture of the athletics program of the University."

Some of the charges which the statement discusses, and their answers:

Athletics Non-Profit

1. That the athletics scandal here is due to "the inordinate desire by the trustees and alumni of Kentucky University for prestige and profit from sports." The group said the Athletics Association is a non-profit agency, and all income goes for the support of the athletics program as well as for other educational and cultural purposes.

"In the second place, the desire for winning teams is not a charge."

Dr. Donovan Invites Inquiries Of Program

An invitation to visit the University and investigate its athletics programs was extended this week to the National Collegiate Athletic Association, the Southeastern Conference, and the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools.

President Herman L. Donovan said the telegrams sent read:

"The integrity not only of Coach Rupp but of administrative officials, trustees, alumni, faculty, and many Kentuckians has been attacked by Judge Saul Streit in his recent statement from the bench in sentencing three of our former basketball players in the basketball scandal. We respectfully request that the NCAA (SEC and SACSS) at your earliest convenience send to our campus representatives to investigate the truth of these charges and any violations by the University of Kentucky of the rules of the NCAA (SEC and SACSS)."

Nine Constitutionalists Win After 1622 Vote; Installation To Be Monday

United Student George Lawson and Constitutionalist Pat Patterson are the new president and vice president of the Student Government Association.

Eleven United Students and nine Constitutionalists also won seats in the assembly at the election, held Wednesday.

Installation of new officers and representatives will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in Room 128 of the SUB.

Lawson won over Jess Gardner, 846 to 746. He carried the Graduate School and the Colleges of Arts and Sciences, Agriculture, Commerce, and Law. Gardner carried the United Students Party. Large majorities in the Colleges of Engineering and Education.

Victory In Two Colleges

Miss Patterson had 807 to 778 for opponent Henry Neel, chairman of the College of Arts and Sciences, while Neel had majorities in the other colleges and the Graduate School.

Votes cast in the election totaled 1622, the largest number since the Spring 1950 election.

In the College of Arts and Sciences, 510 votes were cast. Paul Holleman and James Bradbury won upperclass seats. United Student Holleman had 314, and Bradbury, a Constitutionalists, 234. Their opponents, Dick Allen and Hunt Perkins, had 196 and 192 votes, respectively.

US Get Both Seats

Both lowerclass seats in the College of Arts and Sciences went to United Students. Dick Rushing received 259 votes and John D. Redden had 248 votes. William A. Gardner received 197 votes and Luther House received 207.

Zoe Parker, Constitutionalists, received 286 votes for Arts and Sciences upperclasswoman. Her written opponent, Doris Morgan, received 139.

Jane Stockton, another Constitutionalists, won the lowerclasswoman seat in Arts and Sciences, 251 to 230, over Marguerite Magill.

Ag College Casts 320

The College of Agriculture cast the second largest number of votes, 320. United Students swept every seat in the college. John C. Robertson beat Ward Crowe, 167 to 148, for upperclassman. Fred D. Williams beat John Ernst, 189 to 128, for lowerclassman, and Pat Moore defeated Marlene Farmer, 180 to 124, for woman-at-large.

United Students also took all three seats in the College of Commerce, where 284 votes were cast. Henry Maeser received 150 votes to James Perry's 125 for upperclassman. Dick Hubbard beat Ken McGee, 183 to 93, for man-at-large, and Jane Truitt had 182 votes to Patricia Pauli's 94 for woman-at-large.

Sweep Engineering

A sweep of the College of Engineering, where 218 votes were cast, went to the Constitutionalists Party. For upperclassman, James McCurry defeated Charles Campbell, 130 to 83. Edwin Berry won the lowerclassman's seat over Norman Berry, 107 to 96. Arthur K. Linville took the representative-at-large seat over T. Y. Martin, 119 to 92.

In the College of Education, where 126 votes were cast, Suzanne Swayze was elected woman-at-large. She received 67 votes, while her opponent, Martie Driskill, received 56.

Davenport Wins Law

Constitutionalist Robert Davenport won the representative-at-large seat in the College of Law, usually a United Student stronghold. Davenport edged out Ted Iglehart, 48 to 45.

Jack Early and Abdel Nour, both United Students, were unopposed in their races for man-at-large and representative-at-large in the Graduate School. Early received 57 votes and Nour received 54.

Alicann Clayton, Constitutionalists, won the Graduate School woman-at-large seat, receiving 21 votes. Her opponent, United Student written-in candidate Betty Gentry received 12 votes.

Observers said more campaigning was done by both parties this time than for any other election in recent years.

Officers will be elected and information about graduation activities will be given.

Victors Express Hope For Progress In SGA

Brisk Campaigning Precedes Elections

By Dorman Cordell

Victors in Wednesday's Student Government Association election expressed hopes this week for a year of progress in SGA in 1952-53.

George Lawson, victorious in the presidential race, said, "I certainly was pleased at the turnout. My thanks goes to all who voted and worked for my election. I am looking forward to a fine year in SGA."

Vice president-elect Pat Patterson commented, "Instead of letting all this enthusiasm about the election die down, we ought to use some of it to put through some of the platform plans."

"I think both parties can work together and really get something done," Miss Patterson said.

Posters Everywhere

Miss Patterson's statement referred to the campaigning done by both parties before the election. Campaign posters of both parties covered trees, bulletin boards, and doors all over the campus.

Lawson probably distributed more campaign material than any other candidate. Eighty-six of his posters were counted in the Journalism Building alone.

Several candidates had printed posters and cards, while others used mimeographed posters.

Constitutionalists Parade

On Tuesday night, the Constitutionalists held a gigantic political rally. Beginning at the Administration Building, cars decked with colored streamers and campaign posters paraded around the campus, accompanied by a city fire truck with siren screaming.

After circling the campus, the parade wound back to the Administration building, where two tickets to the Stan Kenton show at Joyland were given away.

All day election day, the area around the polls was congested with campaigners and voters. Election rules prohibited campaigning closer than 15 feet from the polls, and most of the candidates and their supporters stood just outside the boundary line.

Lunchers Handed Cards

During the period the cafeteria was open for lunch, persons entering the ground floor of the SUB were immediately handed cards by various workers for both parties.

Counting of votes was started immediately after the polls closed at 4 p.m., and was completed about 6:15 p.m. in one of the most rapid counts ever made.

Candidates and party leaders kept going in and out of the vote-counting room, checking latest tallies. Bos Todd, chairman of the election committee, kept a watchful eye over the proceedings.

Swayze Won Early

The College of Education count was the first completed. Suzanne Swayze, the winner, left after receiving congratulations. She came back later to watch other results.

When the College of Agriculture results showed the United Students had taken all three seats, Bob Jones, Alpha Gamma Rho president and a Constitutionalists, exclaimed, "How about that? They took every seat. Every single seat! How about that?" Law students with United Student affiliations were shocked by Constitutionalists Bob Davenport's victory by three votes over United Student Ted Iglehart.

Puzzled Over Victory

"How in the world did Davenport ever beat Iglehart? That's what I want to know," said one. Bob Smith and Charles "Red" Hale, present president and vice president of SGA, are both from the College of Law and both United Students.

After his defeat in the vice presidential race, Henry Neel said he thought it would be best if he resigned as chairman of the United Students Party.

'Glad We Won'

"I won't be in close contact with SGA, and up-to-the-minute on a lot of issues and policies," he said. "I'm glad we won a majority of seats." Jess Gardner, defeated presidential candidate, stated, "I think our party ran a good race. As far as showing the students a platform, the Constitutionalists did the better job. The United Students had more of a 'pig in a poke'."

"The election at least showed the Constitutionalists are definitely still alive."

Final Examinations To Start May 27

Final examinations in all colleges except the College of Law will begin at 7:30 a.m. May 27. They will last through May 31.

The exam schedule: May 27, 7:30-9:35 a.m.—classes which meet first on Monday or Wednesday at 9 a.m.; 1-3:05 p.m.—classes which meet first on Tuesday or Thursday at 9 a.m.; 3:15-5:30 p.m.—classes which meet first on Monday or Wednesday at 4 p.m. May 28, 7:30-9:35 a.m.—classes which meet first on Tuesday or Thursday at 5 p.m.

Pledged Program Of Reform Must Have Public Support

"... we are firmly resolved to make such reforms in our athletics program as will assure the people of Kentucky that never again shall a scandal besmirch the name of their University."

With this statement (taken from the University's reply to Judge Saul Streit's criticism), UK officials pledged themselves to an athletic reform program. At the same time they reaffirmed a stand previously taken by the Kernel when they said that while they

Spring Retaliation

Comprehensives may be defined as that small period of time during which department heads lord and gloat over the inadequacies of graduating seniors.

However, things haven't always been that way. Back in the 1400's universities were run in a different fashion, with students taking the upper hand in deciding policies and courses of action. At least it was that way at Bologna University.

Every two years an upperclassman, called a Rector, would be appointed to take charge of things. He didn't always have an easy time of it, since students have a tendency to be more appreciation of the finer aspects of life, such as women and wine.

All teachers had to obey the Rector, who, in turn, was acting on the advice of the students. A professor either swore to obey the Rector or lost his right to teach. That wasn't quite as bad as the loyalty oaths some teachers have been asked to sign, but it served its purpose... to make the old scholars hopping mad.

If a prof fell behind schedule in his lectures, he was fined. The same applied to teachers who overlooked pertinent material or, and this beats them all, talked too long and said too little.

Most gratifying of all to students who frequently catch parts of the lower regions for cutting classes, is the fact that a prof at old Bologna was pinched in the salary if his classes fell below a certain number. In those days it didn't pay to put a class to sleep.

Now and then, probably in the spring, some of the younger profs felt the urge to marry, only to find their romances cut short by the honeymoon limit set by the students... one day.

Maybe the comprehensives are retaliation for several centuries of wonderful power in the hands of the students, but it's hardly in accordance with the students golden rule: "Don't do to me what I wouldn't do to a dog."

President Donovan Receives Alumni Telegrams Of Support

The following are a few of the telegrams received by President H. L. Donovan since the recent report by Judge Streit. We present them as an indication of the reaction of part of the alumni of the University. Further alumni comments will be welcomed by the Kernel to be used in addition to the information concerning the opinions of students and faculty which we hope to obtain through a poll now being conducted.—Ed.

Dr. H. L. Donovan:

I have the utmost faith in you, Coach Rupp and the University Boards. I am aware of the great good that has been done for many boys who were at the University on athletic scholarships. Time will prove Judge Streit's charges both unfair and unwarranted.

Homer L. Baker

President H. L. Donovan:

Although a few boys have made mistakes that have cast reflections on our University and those connected with it, I believe that Judge Streit has were ready to admit their responsibility, they felt the blame did not rest entirely with them, but was also shared by:

"A public that persists in gambling and in protecting gamblers; an over-zealous alumni, real and synthetic, who place athletic victories above all other consideration; by radio stations, newspapers, and magazines that have featured college sports out of all proportion to their importance; and by college and university administrative officials and coaches throughout the land."

It is obvious that University officials will not be able to successfully carry out their reform measures without the cooperation of these groups.

University spokesmen have pledged themselves: now, it is up to the rest of us to see that the pledge is carried out, and, to accept our responsibility for its success.

And....

Since the UK administration has already released a preliminary answer to Judge Streit's criticism of UK, its faculty, and its athletic policies, the Kernel is taking a special poll this week to see how the students feel about the situation.

In the past, students have shown a tendency to respond to polls in an immature, frivolous manner, giving absurd answers and signing fictitious names. However, we feel that the conscientious student who realizes the effect of all the recent publicity on UK's prestige will be willing to cooperate with the Kernel and help us accurately survey the situation.

The administration's reply to Judge Streit is not enough, for without the STUDENTS' reply, the many readers who have been following the developments at UK in the papers cannot get a clear picture of conditions at the University.

In view of the situation, we are asking for your cooperation and aid in helping us prepare a reply to the people who have either condemned or questioned UK's policies.

For those of you who didn't get polls, and who wish to express your opinions, here is a reprint of the questions asked:

Do you think that the emphasis on sports at UK has had any effect on the education you are getting, and, if so, why?

Have you ever seen any instances of cheating being tolerated by professors, and, if so, give examples.

Do you think that the situation at UK is any worse than it is at any other college or university in the United States?

definitely overemphasized the situation. Many others join me in definitely stating we have every confidence in those who direct the athletic affairs at the University as well as yourself.

J. A. Disman

Dr. Herman Lee Donovan:

We have complete confidence in you and your staff and your ability to prove these charges untrue. If we can help you in any way, call on us.

Lucy and Jere Beam

President H. L. Donovan:

Be assured of my complete confidence in you, Rupp, Athletic Council and University of Kentucky.

Keen Johnson

Dr. Herman L. Donovan:

Henry County UK Alumni in semi-annual meeting last evening unanimously passed resolution expressing confidence in University officials and Athletic Board. Best wishes in clearing recent charges.

The Stewpot

Carson, Comics, Book Store Get Writer's Wrath

By DORMAN CORDELL

Dean M. M. White has apparently gone off his rocker, and has appointed Miss Ann Carson, Bill Wilson, and the writer of that horrible column,

The Stewpot, as a nominating committee for the senior class of the Arts and Sciences College.

We, the omniscient, are supposed to nominate candidates for the various offices of the senior class. No doubt the nominees will be Miss Ann Carson, Bill Wilson, and the writer of that horrible column, The Stewpot.

Miss Carson, as you probably know, wields the whip in the Student Union Board, and, as mentioned in an earlier Stewpot, has a hobby of pressuring the Kernel. But she has been wounded this week, and can't make her usual rounds to see that the Student Union Board is done right by.

Last week, Miss Carson found that a certain Sigma Chi with whom she associates was in a perfect position to be kicked, so she kicked. Only she missed the Sigma Chi, kicked a radio, and hasn't been able to walk since.

The following have asked to be mentioned in this column:

1. Oakle Petrey.

As a proponent of intellectualism, we have been overjoyed to notice recently several letters to the Lexington Herald, telling them what a lousy comic strip "Smilin' Jack" is.

If the Herald would dispatch Jack to the nether regions, and put in "Pogo," one of the best strips, it would do wonders for their comic page.

In fact, the Stewpot recommends that true intellectuals write the Herald, requesting that Smilin' Jack commit suicide.

What a service the bookstore is to us students, bless their hearts! They are kind enough to sell us books and all kinds of supplies, when they're not making anything from it except money. Such a sacrifice.

And now they are being real kind to the students. They will cash student checks for any amount the student spends in the bookstore. Of course, they won't cash one for a penny that isn't spent in the bookstore.

The bookstore has received some bad checks, and it is too much trouble for them to take the pains to trace down the few persons who write bad checks, since they are only getting rich.

So they'll just discriminate against all students. That'll teach those old students. Blessings upon the bookstore!

We end on a cheery note. There will be only two more Stewpots, and then, unlike the Arabs, we are going to fold up and clomp off like a herd of wild elephants.

Of course, there's always a possibility that there won't be any more Stewpots, if we happen to meet Ann Carson when she's carrying a blunt instrument. And our obituary will read:

"THE STEWPOT IS EMPTY."

The Knapsack by Paul Knapp

Cinderella Was Not At All Naive According To Handsome Prince

There was a time when we were kids that it was well for us to read sweet and tender tales such as "Cinderella." Naive children would admire a heroine who learned all the social graces from throwing coal into a fireplace.

Forever Ember.

Let's make like with a lusty novel, and skip the pages to the interesting part.

Cinderella hopped down from her coach and ascended the steps to the palatial ballroom as fast as her first pair of high-heeled glass slippers could carry her.

She paused momentarily at the massive oak door and tapped the brass knocker lightly. The door immediately opened and she was confronted with an enormous penguin who addressed her with an English accent.

"Wot! Another one!" Jeeves exclaimed.

"I'm Cinderella," she cooed sweetly and smiled naively up at the doorman.

This was the fourth time lately that the doorman had been interrupted from his champagne party with the cook in the kitchen. Each time it had been a lone woman, unescorted, that looked sweetly up at him.

They had all been half tight, and had lost their way from the patio in the rear, or had eluded some passionate admirer in the rose arbor to the left.

No one ever smiled sweetly at the doorman, unless they were drunk. "Come in," Jeeves grumbled.

"Thank you," said Cinderella.

The lovely naive Cinderella floated daintily past the irate Jeeves and was at once confronted by the enormous ballroom.

While she was standing there gazing at the enormous chandelier, those dancing began to notice her. They, too, became transfixed. They had never seen such a beautiful girl with such a look on her face.

Of course, this stupid look of awe was translated by the men in the crowd to be that come-hither sultry look.

The women said to themselves, "What a stupid look!" Courtly women, especially jealous ones, are always objective about such things.

The first to rush to her side and kiss her hand was the prince. He had seen the looks in the eyes of the other males present, and decided what a wonderful opportunity to pull rank.

Cinderella smiled at him and said, "Hello."

Taken aback by this simple greeting, the prince managed to welcome her to the festivities, and asked her if she would accompany him to his table.

Cinderella said, "Sure."

When they were seated about the prince's table, the host started to feed her his usual line.

Cinderella smiled. Every once in a while she would say "yes," "no," or "oh, really."

"This is perfect" thought the prince. "This girl is playing it excitingly coy. Or else she is..." he hesitated when a sinister thought came to him... "just plain stupid."

He shuddered at this, and asked her to dance.

After he had explained to her that she was to hold his left hand, and place her right hand in the vicinity of his neck, he tried to lead her through three bars of the music.

Cinderella smiled up at him.

"My God, she can't dance either!" he thought. Aloud he said, "Shall we go out on the patio?"

"I'd love to," she answered, still smiling.

The prince returned from the patio with a look of disappointment and told his immediate friends that he had met the most stupid girl in the world.

Cinderella ran down the steps of the palace with her hair all messed up and lost one of her glass slippers on the way.

The next morning when the prince woke up, he remembered meeting the most beautiful woman in the world. He also realized that she had turned out to be the most stupid, uncultured girl in the world.

He, being an old college man, knew exactly what the poor girl needed—a college education.

So the prince went out into the big city and found Cinderella could wear the little glass slipper.

Diplomatically speaking, he told her that she would be required to attend a prominent university before he would even think of asking her to be his steady girl.

Cinderella said that she would rather keep on throwing coal in the fireplace than learn these finer things of life that she had had a tussle with the night before.

She had already learned that it pays to be aloof. Next week she went off to college, still smiling.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

"YOUR HAIR looks as though it's been in the rein, deer," a campus Caribou told Sheedy. "If you want to horn in on the sororities, it might behoof a man of your ilk to try Wildroot Cream-Oil, America's Favorite Hair Tonic. Contains soothing Lanolin. Non-alcoholic. Grooms hair neatly and naturally all day long. Relieves annoying dryness. Removes moose, ugly dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test!" Paul got Wildroot Cream-Oil and now no girl wonders whether he's man or moose! If your moose is cooked by unruly hair, collect a little doe and take a taxi-dermist to the nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. And ask for it on your hair at the barber shop so your deer won't think you've let her down. (What she'll say will be moose-ic to your ears!)

Grill To Become More Popular As Semester's End Approaches

It won't be long now . . . that old clock is ticking away and pretty soon the semester will be over. All those girls on the roof at Jewell Hall are going to be sure they have a nice sun tan before they go home for vacation. The Grill will be full of lots of students from now on . . . trying to get old exams, sipping a cool limeade or just soaking up the atmosphere of the well-known places on the campus.

Jane Hoffman was selected as the Sweetheart of Delta Chi and Clara

Calvert was selected Sweetheart of Tau Kappa Epsilon at the Carnation Ball held last weekend by the two fraternities.

Robert Scherer is the newly elected president of Phi Delta Theta. Other officers include Louis Flowers, vice president; Leslie Morris, secretary; Stan Dickson, treasurer; and Don Smith, pledge master.

Leave it to those Kappa Sigs to think up the parties. Tonight they have planned a Backwards Party at the house. No comment!

The SAEs are having their annual spring formal tonight at the Lexington Country Club. All the "Sleep and Eat" boys say it will be a BALL!

Tomorrow of course is the annual SuKy May Day and what a day it will be. Most of the sorority girls and fraternity boys will be up at the crack of dawn to help decorate those beautiful floats for the parade in the afternoon. Tomorrow night the May Queen will be presented at the May Dance in the SUB, and the winning floats will be announced.

Sunday the ADPis will honor their graduates with a picnic down at Herrington Lake. The Newman Club will also have a picnic and beach party Sunday afternoon.

Tau Alpha Pi chapter here on the campus will soon be taken into the National Organization.

Now that the races and the Derby are over, everyone can settle down to some studying for all those exams that will soon be coming up . . . and of course there are all of those terrific beach parties and picnics.

No. 41...THE MAGPIE

He's a chatterbox himself — outclassed by no one!

But the fancy double-talk of cigarette tests was too fast for him! He knew — before the garbled gobbledygook started — a true test of cigarette mildness is steady smoking. Millions of smokers agree — there's a thorough test of cigarette mildness.

It's the sensible test...the 30-day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke — on a day-after-day, pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments. Once you've tried Camels in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

Wildcat Nine Opens Vol Series Today With Possible Play-Off Spot In Sight

Lancaster Elects Bunky Gruner To Start On Mound

The UK baseball team plays the first of a two game series with Tennessee this afternoon at 3:15 on the Stoll Field diamond. The second game will be played tomorrow at 1:30 p.m.

Developments in the Southeastern Conference pennant race have made this series a crucial one for the Cats. If Auburn loses one of four remaining games on its schedule and the Cats take both ends of the Vol series, Coach Harry Lancaster's men will cop the Eastern Division championship. Florida has already bottled up the Western Division and will meet the Eastern winners in a play-off for the SEC championship. Tennessee has the same chance as UK. If the Vols win today and tomorrow and Auburn loses, the defending champs will advance to the play-offs.

Auburn has left a duo of games with Florida and two with Georgia. Lancaster has selected Bunky Gruner to oppose the Volunteers in the game today. Gruner has won two and lost one for the season, one of those wins being over the Vols at Knoxville last week. He twirled a neat five-hitter against the Tennesseans.

Williams Probable Starter

Gruner will probably be opposed by Don Williams who bested the Cats a week ago. Williams is pitching his first season for the Vols. After Williams, Coach Cy Anderson has several other top flight throwers to go against the Cats. John Huffstetler, whom Lancaster considers the best of the Vol mound corps, had an 8-0 conference record last year. Captain Billy Joe Bowman won five and lost one, and Billy Joe O'Kain had a 3-0 record.

Freshman Jim Day, who lost a decision to Tennessee although he pitched creditable ball all the way, will hurl for the Cats tomorrow.

Lancaster will have in reserve reliever Herb Hunt, Gene Neff, Don House, and Don Sullivan.

The catching job for the series, Lancaster said, will go to Charlie Anderson. Anderson has been a light man with the bat this season with a .103 batting average but Lancaster considers him the top man for the job.

The rest of the Cat line-up will be the same as in the majority of earlier games. Charlie Keller will be at first, Harry Jones at second, Miles Willard at third, Larry Jones at shortstop, and Frank Ramsey, Neff, and John Shanahan in the outfield.

Coach Anderson is expected to counter with G. P. Anderson behind the plate, Frank Powers at first, Hal Payne at second, B. B. Hopkins at third, Bill Blackstock at short, and Joe McClain, Bert Rechichar, and Bill Asbury in the pasture.

McClain leading slugger McClain leads the Vol squad with the willow with a .417 average. Huffstetler, though, has a higher average, .421, but he has not appeared in as many games. Rechichar, who takes time out from grid chores for General Bob Neyland to roam centerfield, is pounding the ball at a .348 clip.

Another football star, Payne, is breezing along at .333.

Rechichar leads the long ball hitters with three home runs, one triple, and three doubles. He has batted in nine runs. McClain leads the RBI department with 16.

Larry Jones is the leading Cat slugger with a .408 average. Ramsey and Neff follow with a .370 and .369 averages respectively.

Ramsey has collected five home runs to lead the Cat power sluggers. In addition, he has had two triples and two doubles and batted in 17 markers. L. Jones and Gruner each have two round trippers.

Anderson and H. Jones share fielding honors for the Cats with respective averages of .955 and .954.

Ticket manager Harvey Hodges said he expects the largest crowds of the season at these games. At no game has the stands been completely full. Seating facilities are available for approximately 4,000 fans.

Judge Joins Emphasis Critics; Did Someone Say Tennessee?; Now Batting For Harry—Larry

The University has answered the accusations of Judge Saul Streit and those who stood armed to blast the athletic program can put down their weapons. There's really nothing to shoot at.

After hearing both sides of the question one can see the blasts by the judge were unnecessary and uncalled for. After praising UK officials for complete co-operation in connection with the basketball scandals, Judge Streit then tore into the UK family for harboring illegitimate practices.

The University answered each of the judge's torts and on the basis of the prepared statement, the slams at UK athletics were unjustified. Members of the basketball squad repudiated the personal statements made about Coach Adolph Rupp.

Those intimately connected with athletics at UK knew from the start Judge Streit's accusations were exaggerated and erroneous. Those who have traveled with the basketball team knew the regulations imposed by Rupp and that he has never been guilty of sacrificing the welfare of his players. As for subsidizing players, the judge over-looked the fact that much of the publicity concerning high school players comes from the player, his family, or his coach who hope to attract attention through reports of contacts from the better-known schools.

After examining the issue, it seems Judge Streit has joined the group of critics who see nothing but evil in present athletic systems in the nation but can give no definite ways in which the programs can be improved. If the judge's altruistic motives were aimed to improve intercollegiate athletics and if he had spent his time studying the question, perhaps his report would have had more value than the destructive criticism thrown at Kentucky.

His statement did incite the NCAA to announce a pending investigation but the University has replied with an invitation to the membership committee to visit and examine its methods and practices.

There will be more discussion but the willingness of UK officials to co-operate with any investigation seems to indicate publicity from here on will be favorable. It's time to forget to tag former players "former players involved in the fix" and return to normal.

Let's play ball the way we used to.

What's That Name?

That word "Tennessee" is being mentioned again today and as a result the largest crowd of the season is expected at the Stoll Field diamond. Ticket manager Harvey Hodges commented last week that this year has been one of the worst in recent years at the gate for baseball games.

He said students are supporting the team as well as in previous years but that town people are fewer in number than in past years.

Ticket sales at the games have averaged around $50 but today and tomorrow should see the turnstiles tick faster. People always follow the crowd when the Volunteers are mentioned.

As to the Tennessee team, Coach Harry Lancaster said it is better than the Vol team which won the SEC crown last year. Coach Cy Anderson has added pitching strength and he still has the potent bats of fellows like Bert Rechichar and Hal Payne. Football fans will recall those names.

Tennessee is one of the schools which went along with the move to emphasize baseball. Scholarships are awarded horse-hiders which attract one-spot players. Kentucky has no scholarship program for baseball players.

A Recommendation To Harry and Larry. Statistics released by Ken Kuhn, sports publicity editor, show that Larry Jones is leading Wildcat hitters after thirteen games with a .408 average. Now brother Harry, who resembles Larry in many ways, is batting a meek .186. Perhaps Harry Lancaster could arrange for Larry to bat for Harry occasionally and his average might improve. It's just a suggestion.

Frank Ramsey follows Larry with a .370 average and Gene Neff is hitting a smooth .309. John Shanahan has an even .300 to round out the select group. Charlie Keller is almost in the charmed circle with .296.

Neff leads the hurlers with a 2 and 0 record while Bunky Gruner and Herb Hunt each have won two and lost one. Don House has a 1-1 slate, Ken Brumback has lost one, and Jim Day two.

Day is the hard luck pitcher of the group. He hurled two good games but lost them both on fielding mishaps and lack of hitting support. He is only a freshman and Lancaster believes he will develop into a mound mainstay before he is through.

Cat Golfers Play Today In Tri-Meet

Coach John Owens' Kentucky golfers will be out after their sixth and seventh victories of the season against Cincinnati and Xavier in a tri-meet at Cloverbrook Country Club in Cincinnati today.

The Cat linksmen hold close decisions over Cincinnati, 16-11, and Xavier, 15-12, so far this year and will be favored to cop the meet.

This is the first engagement for the Cats since returning from the SEC meet at Athens, Ga., last week where they finished ninth in the SEC. Handicapped by the loss of Crabtree and Hardy, who were unable to play due to an attack of the flu and food poisoning, the Wildcats only had four entries in the tournament, Smith, Riddle, Stoll and Kloecker.

Smith had rounds of 79, 69, 84 and 81 over the Athens Country Club layout; Riddle fired a total of 313 on rounds of 75, 79, 78 and 81. Stoll and Kloecker failed to qualify for the last 36 holes as they had 75, 83 and 83, 85 respectively the first two days.

Georgia won the team championship and John Hill of Alabama was the individual champion of the SEC with a 290 total, two-over-par for the 72 holes.

UK Runners Meet Western, UL Tomorrow

The UK track squad will meet the University of Louisville and Western's track teams on Stoll field tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m. in a triangular meet. This will be one of the first meets with Western in a few years.

The Louisville squad will boast regulars from last year who lost to the Kentucky team 72-59 but who made it close until the last. Back are Jack Valvo, who set a meet record in the javelin last year, Huey Wilkinson, one of the few boys to beat Jay Wallace in the 880, and Harlan Silliman, state high school champion of last year and holder of the state high school record in the high hurdles.

In the only competition this year for the UL squad, they bested Berea and Centre in a triangular meet.

AGR Leads In I-M Fraternity League While Men's Dorm Paces Independents

AGR posted two victories for the best effort in Division One softball play this week. Monday saw them down the Deltas 5-2 and then come back on Tuesday night to post a 7-5 victory over the Barristers.

In other games of the division, ASP and the Barristers staged quite a slugfest with ASP getting a little the better of it for a 2-16 win. The following night saw ATO turn the tables on ASP and down them 13-4 in a well played ball game for both sides.

Only one game was played as of this writing in Division Two. PKA outlasted SAE in this single contest for a 15-11 victory. The game score is a good indication as to the progress of the contest. Both teams were ragged in the field but made up for it with their bats.

Phi Deltas Win Two

Three games were played in Division Three. The Phi Deltas won two games without the taste of defeat for their play this week. PDT took the Sig EPs 10-3 and then came back just as strong in the next game to down the Kappa Sigs 7-3.

In other games Sigma Nu ran over the Sig EPs for an 11-4 win. This was an abbreviated contest as the game only lasted three innings before being called on time. Lambda Chi beat ZBT 15-8 in the other game in that division. This contest was a good game from the spectator point of view but would hardly appeal to the critic in the same way since both teams lacked fielding strength but the spirit and hustle kept things moving right along until the final inning.

Play-Off Set For Next Week

The interdivision playoffs will probably begin late next week since play is over for the round robin this week. Four teams from each division will be chosen for the playoffs and the winner will play the independent champ for the intra-mural title.

YOU'RE LATE CHUM! Lawrence Riddle, Sigma Nu softball player, hits the dirt coming into second base, but the slide failed to beat the throw as Jack Dorsey makes the tag. Dorsey is a member of the Sig Ep team. Sigma Nu scored an 11-4 victory in the contest which was called at the end of three innings. The AGR team is currently pacing the league among the fraternity teams.

In the independent division, BSU downed the Newman Club 17-10 in a free scoring affair. BSU followed with another win over Scott Street Barracks by a score of 8-5. All round play in this contest was good both in the field and at bat. In another close and well played affair Careless Hands lost to the Turtles by a 7-4 count.

Cochs Doc Wahl's Men's Dorm team, considered the one to beat in independent play, walloped the Copy Cats by a lop-sided score and Scott Street grabbed another win from the cellar dwelling writers. The Copy Cats have yet to win a contest in any intra-mural activity.

Keller Rejects Offers To Play College Ball

Charley Keller came to UK in 1951 to try out for Coach Adolph Rupp's basketball team. In addition to making the grade for the nation's number one basketball team, the 18-year old freshman has added considerable punch to the Wildcat baseball team.

Keller hails from Jonesboro, Arkansas, a town of some 20,000 baseball happy people. At the ripe old age of 13, the Kentucky first baseman started playing semi-pro ball around his hometown. His talents were recognized by a New York Yankee scout and the club dangled a major league contract in his face.

During the five years that followed, Charley had offers from other major league teams, but refused all of them. The Brooklyn Dodgers, Boston Red Sox, and the St. Louis Browns had Charley working out with their clubs before coming to UK.

At Ebbetts Field in Brooklyn he worked out with the Dodger stars prior to one of their games before 33,000 fans. He remained with the Brooklyn club for four days.

A Fixture At Initial Sack
Coach Harry Lancaster put Charley to work as soon as baseball appeared this spring. He opened the season on first base and has held down that position since then.

In the 13 games played by the Wildcats so far, the Kentucky first baseman has appeared in all of them. He has been to the plate 54 times and has garnered 16 hits and as many runs. Larry Jones is the only other performer on the team with as many runs to his credit. He and Keller are tied in that department.

Keller's eight RBI's place him fourth on the team in the matter of clutch hitting. Charley has made more putouts than any other member of the team with 104. He has yet to make an error and his fielding percentage is a glossy 1.000.

Teammates have dubbed Charley with the nickname, "King Kong". After the famous Charley "King Kong" Keller of the New York Yankees a few years back. During his tryout with the Brooklyn Dodgers, many of their top stars thought Charley was far advanced in his fielding for his age.

Adds punch on first base both basketball and baseball. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Keller visited the campus early in the season to see the two-game series between the Wildcats and Georgia. After traveling 450 miles the series was rained out and the family had the long trip for nothing. However, they are determined to see their son play this year and plan to make the trip for the Tennessee series this weekend.

During his high school days at Jonesboro High he served as captain for the All-State basketball team for four straight years. He scored 37 points in one game to establish a high school record for a single game in Arkansas. Charley was chosen as the best baseball prospect in Arkansas by a scout from the St. Louis Cardinals in the National League.

Charley says that one of his biggest thrills in baseball came in a game played against Harry Walker's Major League All-Stars. In five trips to the plate he was credited with two base hits and two walks. Not bad for an amateur against major league pitching!

If the army stays away from his door, the Wildcat first-sacker plans to enter the pro ranks. He tips the scales at 172 and stands 5'11 1/2". Kentucky has his services for three more years.

Gruner Pitches Five Hitter As Cats Wallop Vols, 10-3

Bunky Gruner pitched five-hit ball for UK in Knoxville last Saturday as the Wildcats blasted Tennessee, 10-3.

Gruner went six full innings before allowing a run, then the Vols cut loose in the bottom of the seventh frame to score three times. Gruner held the home team scoreless for the next two innings to turn in one of the best pitching jobs of the season for the Cats.

Kentucky took full advantage of eleven hits and some weak fielding on the part of Tennessee, scoring three runs in the third, one in the fifth, and three in the seventh and eighth innings for the margin of victory. Larry Jones paced the Wildcats with a homer and two singles in four trips to the plate, and was credited with four RBI's. Frank Ramer slammed a triple and a homer to drive in three runs. The Vols had one extra base blow, a triple by B. B. Hopkins.

Wiley Cracks Another Mark As Two-Miler

Al Wiley set a school record in the two mile run by bettering the old mark of 10:01.4 by three seconds in a losing cause as the Volunteers of Tennessee beat the Cats 77-55 at Knoxville in a dual track meet last Saturday.

The old mark was held by Dave Rogan, the Kentucky flash of the 1936-37 seasons. Actually, the mark was bettered by Wiley last week in Huntington against Marshall but it wasn't recognized.

Wiley's performance and that of Bill Valleau, hurdler, were two of the few bright spots in the loss. The two Jones boys, Larry and Harry, took time out from a baseball game being played a few miles away to participate in the broad jump. Larry proceeded to jump 22 feet-5 1/2 inches to take first place. Harry wasn't too far behind his brother to take second. Skip Whitaker rounded out Kentucky's only sweep of the day.

Swedish Star Sets Record

Actually the main attraction of the day was the running of Tennessee's Swedish distance man, Alf Holmberg, as he set another meet record in the mile run. He then took part in the mile relay to help set another school record in that event. The time of 3:27.7 broke the old school record of 3:28.

High point man for the Cats was Bill Valleau with a double win in the high and low hurdles. Ed Morgan of Tennessee was honors man for the host school with wins in the 100 and 220 dashes.

Skippy Whitaker just couldn't get out of the third place rut as he garnered four of them, one in the broad jump, high jump, javelin and the 100-yard dash.

Tennessee gathered nine first places to Kentucky's six and outscored the Cats 33-21 in the field competition and 44-34 in the track events.

The results are:
100-yard dash—Morgan, T.; Byrd, T.; Whitaker, K. Time 10.4
220-yard dash—Morgan, T.; Rishell, K.; Byrd, T. Time 23.0
440-yard dash—Rishell, K.; Hill, T.; Tidwell, T. Time 51.4

School Is Not Above Criticism In Sports 'Affair,' Officials Say

acteristic peculiar to the alumni of Kentucky," the statement adds.

2. That unqualified students have been admitted to the University on athletics scholarship, referring especially to Nicholas Englis and Walt Hirsch.

Two Were Qualified

The statement says a check of University bulletins, together with high school transcripts and college records of the two, will show they were technically qualified to enter the University.

3. That cribbing was "encouraged and tolerated by University officials." The charge was based on statements by Beard, Groza, and Barnstable that when they had been absent from examinations they were permitted, in some cases, to take the same examination which had previously been given to the class. This gave them opportunity to talk with others and learn about the test.

Other students had the same opportunity, the statement answered. This practice was confined to a few faculty members whose trust was sometimes betrayed.

Answers 'Point Spread' Charge

4. That Coach Rupp discussed point spreads with his teams. Most coaches use information about how they are favored to win to stir their teams to greater efforts, the group answered.

5. That Rupp associated with a Lexington bookmaker.

The statement says the bookmaker was not a member of Rupp's party at any night club, but happened to call at the table while there. The only association of the two in Lexington was when Coach Rupp called on the bookmaker to secure a contribution to the Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital.

'Physical Welfare' Discussed

6. That Rupp "deliberately sacrificed the physical welfare of the players."

The statement says the group knows of no incident which would justify such a charge.

7. That certain players received money beyond the legitimate scholarship allowances of the Southeastern Conference.

According to the group, a new rule now requires all athletes to make affidavit that they have received no inducements nor will receive any beyond the legitimate scholarships.

8. That when the team lost, "We were lucky to get something to eat."

The same subsistence allowance was paid all players on all trips, the statement said. The amounts were adequate but not excessive.

9. That the University is spending an excessive amount of money on basketball.

The statement says much of the budget of $107,000 was used for travel, guarantees to other teams, sending Suky and the band to the SEC tournament, and other such items.

10. That athletics are "highly systematized and commercialized enterprises" at Kentucky.

All From Gate Receipts

Not a dollar of taxpayers' money was spent on this program, but all came from gate receipts, the statement continued.

11. That athletics are "highly systematized and commercialized enterprises" at Kentucky.

They are "highly systematized," the group agreed, but they "see no reason why this should be condemned. Our teams are superbly coached and equipped and are well organized."

Athletics are commercialized to be self-supporting, they said.

Judge In Error

11. That the University illegally recruits.

Judge Streit is in error about this, the statement charges.

12. That subsidies paid to players came from monies collected in 1948 for the Olympic Committee.

This is not true, the statement replied.

13. That UK has no scholarships for students who work their way through college.

This is untrue, the group stated. Approximately 260 scholarship and fellowships totaling in value more than $75,000 are offered.

Senior Class Attends Tour Of Companies

Winkle Back From Student Conclave

The senior class of the College of Pharmacy, accompanied by several faculty members, was the guest of three major pharmaceutical companies last week.

The students visited Abbott of Chicago, Upjohn of Kalamazoo, Mich., and Parke-Davis of Detroit.

The trip, which lasted a week, was the first three-way trip planned at the college.

Vernon Winkle, a delegate to the district American Pharmaceutical Association student branch convention, has returned to report on the convention held April 27-29 in Chicago.

The University of Illinois, as hosts, took the students on a tour of their medical extension in Chicago.

The district covers five states: Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Kentucky.

The average standings of two professional fraternities at the College of Pharmacy were released last week. Phi Delta Chi has a 1.6 standing; Kappa Psi has a 1.48 standing.

Faculty Club Shows Barnhart Paintings

Ten paintings, by Prof. Raymond Barnhart of the Department of Art, are on display in the Faculty Club.

Dr. Donald L. Weismann, head of the UK Art Department, will go to Louisville Tuesday to judge the year's Student Art work produced by the University of Louisville and the Art Center Association of Louisville.

Tree East Of Miller Hall Planted By Class Of 1901

By Leand Brannan

While hurrying madly across campus to that next class, you may remember having seen a small marker inscribed, "Class 1901."

This square piece of stone lies at the foot of a large pin oak tree just east of Miller Hall. It was the first in a series of 14 memorial trees planted by graduating UK classes.

On Arbor Day, 1901, a class of about 42 planted this tree. It came from Hillenmeyer's Nursery and was approximately six feet tall, including roots. Dr. William S. Webb, retired head of the UK Physics and Anthropology Departments, recalls that each member of his class took a turn at the shovel during the ceremony. Frank G. Cutler was president and Mrs. William S. Webb was vice president. A speech and a prophecy closed the service.

Fifty-one years have passed and the tree is now about 40 feet tall. Time has also had its effect on the class of '01. At least four members have become millionaires, several were killed in World War I, and some have never been heard from. According to the last records there are now 19 living members.

Last year a home-coming ceremony was held around the tree to celebrate the 50th anniversary of its planting. Six graduates attended. They were Dr. and Mrs. William S. Webb; Philip L. Kaufman, mechanical engineer, Chicago; Henry T. Bewlay, electrical engineer, Akron, Ohio; George Hailey, civil engineer, Frankfort; and Frank T. Siebert, mechanical engineer, Merion, Pa.

These six also became members of the Century Club, and received additional diplomas at commencement services last June. To qualify, a former student must have been graduated from UK at least 50 years ago.

The class of '01 was also the first to wear caps and gowns at a UK commencement.

Dr. Webb, who had the tree marker made and placed in 1932, says that the life expectancy of a pin oak tree is about 175 years.
